REWPORT.

RY CHANSTON & NORMAN, 127 THAMES STREET.

MONDAY MORN'G, MAY 3, 1852.

Whig Legislative Caucus. The Whig members of the General Assembly ate requested to meet at the State House in New port, on MONDAY EVENING, May 5d, at 8 o'clock. It is particularly desirable that every Whig member should be present.

OF it is the impression of many that Rossuth will visit Newport this week, during the session of the General As sembly. That body, at the January sussion, invited him here, and appropri ated one thousand dollars for this recep tion. It was a very weak and foolish act, and one which reflected no credit upon those who were concerned in it.--We do not think, however, that Kossuth will come here, unless the Assembly Committee run after him, for he has always given the strongest evidence that vanity is the predominating element of his character; and he has no disposition to go anywhere, unless he is especially eent for, and is afterwards recleved with very marked demonstrations of respect. We do not know what the Committee linve done; but unless they have already urged Kosruth to visit Newport, while the General Assembly is in session, we have not the remotest idea that he will honor our people with his presence. There can be no doubt but that Kossuth is a remarkable man; gifted by unture with far more than ordinary pow ers, possessing a brilliant imagination mny quantity of self-esteem, consummate confidence in his own powers, merite and virtues, and unequalled in cool impullence,-endowed with rather a fascinating manner, and much apparent sin cerity of purpose, he at first swayed the masses, and literally carried everything before him. However, calm reuson has nearly regained her throne, and people are beginning to see how ridiculous they made themselves,-and that after all Kossuth is not the intellectual and moral giant whom they first supposed him to be. Kossuth is an agitator-a wild restless spirit, who cannot five quietly anywhere, unless he can dictate the made of government, and usurp the gov ernment himself, when it chances to be under the control of those who are not subservient to him. That he is a timid man, to speak in no harsher terms, cortainly no reasonable man can question. He resigned his office of Governor of Hungary, in the hour of danger, and at the very moment when the services of such an officer were most absolutely required; and then, to shield his own impo tency, he has denounced as a traiter the man whom he selected as his successor We cannot undertake to follow him in his career since that time; it is perfectly well known to all who have read bile speeches, and the letters of those who are entirely familiar with Hungarian atfairs -- which have been published at different times during the last year.

The plain truth of the matter is that, us a nation, we are the most gullible people on earth, as the record of the past will show. Kossuth has humbugged the Americans in a mosterly manner and they have innocently and blindly participated in and enjoyed the opera-

The idea of comparing Kossuth to Washington is absurd in the extreme: and while it reflects poorly upon the discomment and judgment of those who assert it, it at the same time insults the memory of the good Father of his country. When compared with Washington, as tar as the elements of an emi neatly good man are concerned, Kussutl appears in a very diminutive aspect.

Whatever funds Kossuth collects, he will probably appropriate to his own use. He can quench the fires of Vesuvius about as easily as he can over throw the Austrian control of Hungary; he knows this very well, and he is not so much of a fool as to put his neck deliberately within an Austrian halter .-He is a vain man, and he delights in pompous receptions, good dinners, fine apartments, and all that kind of thing: he is also tond of talking and very much delights to read all the fine things which are said about him and his pretended cause in the newspapers.

There has been quite too much of this nonsense; people are becoming wearled of it, and his day of extensive liouizing is over. The amount of "material nid" which be recieves is now so small, that he is constantly irritated, and he manifests it in every speech which he makes, The people of Rhode Island have no sympathy with him, and do not desire to see him within the State, and have no idea of giving him a pompous reception. Should be visit Newport this week, some few ambitious politicians will probably make quite an effort to have a marked demonstration, - but it will not amount to anything, for the Kossuth fever has never prevailed here.

The steamer Argo will arrive here from Warren, to-merrow morning. about 9 o'clock.

HT We caution our chirens to beware of pickpookets and thicves, this week, and particularly tomorrow. On occaclose like Election, a gang of these scoundrels always visit town for the purpose of plunder. For several years past, various houses have been entered, and robbed of valuable property,-and many persons have had their pockets picked, Election day, while passing through, or standing in, the crowded streets. Keep your doors and windows fastened, and if you go out of the house only for a moment, he careful not to leave your doors so that they can be opened. By a little caution, our citizens may prevent loring valuable articles.

BRIDGING THE SUSCEBANNA.-The Committee of the Maryland Legislature appointed to visit Havre de Grace in reference to the proposed bridge over the Susquehanna have made a report in favor of the project.

3. They are constructing, at Albany, n very substantial cast-iron bridge over the canal, on Lawrence street, near the Upper Basin. It is creeting under the superintendence of Lieutenant Symmes, of the United States Arsenal. Another example of the increasing use of iron.

HF Gov. Allen will arrive in the steamer Perry, at six o'clock, this evening, at which time the Artiflery Conpany will fire the usual salute; he will take rooms at the Bellevue House.

The new Public School house in Clark street is completed, and will be occupied for the first time on Monday next. It will accommodate two schools, each consisting of one hundred pupils. The building is well aranged, and will prove to be a very judicious expenditure, of money.

11.) Hon. Thomas M. Burges, Mayor of Providence, declines being a candidute for re-election; he has served the city long, alily and laithfully, in his present capacity.

We trust that every Whig member of the General Assembly will attent the Caucus to be holden as the State House, this evening. It is important that they should do so, as the candidates for Assembly officers will be agreed upon at this time. Changes in all the State officers will also be made, during the week, and candidates for these will probably be agreed upon this evening. Again we say, let every Wing member be present.

THE GERMANIA BAND, on Tuesday evening, gave a concert at Carusi's Saevening, gave a contert at Carust's Sa-loon, which was very well attended; and their performances elicited frequent rounds of applaose. Yesterday a por-tion of the band visited Mount Versoon in the steamhout Thomas Collyer, and performed several solemn airs at the tomb of the Father of his Country.— Last evening the company gave their accord concert at Carusi's which was again quite fully attended. The performances of Mr. Alfred Jael on the plane are truly of great excellence. He is, in sooth, the wizard of the piano, bringing forth from its bi-colored keys times of the sweetest and most enchanting character-new culling roses, and anon flinging them forth in the most bewildering profusion, right handed, left handed, handed, but always with the greatest re-gularity and the richest flow of melody. The Germanians will visit using ain nexweek, when we learn it is their nurnese a second time to visit and perform at Mount Vernon with the tull company, besides treating us to two more of their delightful concerts at Carusi's.— Hashingion Republic.

63-On the trial of Mr. Wikoff, at Genoa Miss Gamble, the abducted lady, testifed plumply that she is forty years old. This takes all the romance out of the affair, and is sufficient proof that her adorer was after her money.

Industry, fragality, and temperence, are the three keys by which the door of success is opened.

II The London correspondent of the New York Times thus speaks of the arrival of Col. Fremont in the great metrapolis of the old world:---The arrival of Col. FREMONT in town has created quite a sensation among the purchasers of leases in the Mariposa mining district, and the directors and shareholders of gold companies gener-ally. The Colonel's name has been ally. The Colonel's name and used to freely and so many hard things have been said touching his right to grant leases and dispose of lands, that it was a great relief to the minds of many honest jobbing gentlemen about Capel Court, to hear that the Colonel was coming in person to clear up all doubts, and remove the ugly suspicions coming which began to be entertained. I am not sure that the Colonel, by a good many, was not looked upon as a sort of myth,—a "Mrs. Flurris," whose exis tence was considered dubious, if not shadowy altogether. Happily the Colonel has come at last, and his first step was, not only to announce his arrival h advertisement in the Times but to refe every body desirous of information, "to his Solicitor." The prudence of this purse cannot be too much commended. If everything be clear and above-board, his man-of-law will save him the trouble of talking; and if there be any little bitch or difficulty about the leases alteady granted for working the mines, a clover lawyor is the very person to smeath matters comfortably over.

As becomes a millionaire fresh from California, the Colonel has taken up his quarters at the Clarendon, immortalized in "Don Juan" as.

"One of the sweetest of hotels,

Especially for foreigners, and mostly

For those whom favor or whom fortune swells,

And cannot find a bill'a small items costly."

He is, in short, fairly launched as one of the "lions" of the senson, and figured on Wednesday night with Mrs. Farat the Counters of Deray's as-ly. With his reputed wealth, the Sombly. With his reputed wealth, the Colonel will not fail to have plenty of worshippers, and the leaders of fashion are ever on the watch for every fresh celebrity. Once within the magic circle, he will be overwhelmed with invitations, and there is no reason why he may no spend his time here very agreeably, and go back well stocked with imformation about the habits and behavior of the British aristocracy.

Chevalier Hulsemann is about to return to Austria, failing to obtain any relift in this country for his Websterphohia.

Mr. Clay, we hear from Washington, is sinking rapidly. Some days since there were some symptoms of renewed strength, but these alas, are now giving way to the surest indication, of an early dissolution, and of this we bear none are more conscious than the venerable patriot and statesman himself.

Supreme Court

FRIDAY, April 30.
The Court delivered their opinion in the case of the will of Christopher Fry, argued at the last March Term in Newport county, by A. C. Greene and Crans-ion in support of the will, and by Potter contra. In this case the will was attested by the witnesses signing their names beneath the word "witnesses," without any attestation clause or any other proof that the formalities required by statute were complied with, the witnesses them-selves being all dead. The question was whether the will could be admitted to probate upon proof of the hand-writ-ing of the witnesses, and the Court deing of the witnesses, and the Court de-cided that in the absence of proof to the centrary, the presumption was that the statutory fermalities had been complied with and that the will could be admitted to probate.-Proc.
